INJURIES PROVE FATAL TO GIRL HURT SATURDAY

Dorothy Clara Hankey, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Hankey, Orrtanna, died at the Warner hospital this morning at 12:15 o'clock after being injured last Saturday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock near her home when she ran into the side of an automobile operated by B. H. Rinehart, 45, Aspers R. 1.

The youngster never regained consciousness following the accident.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated and attributed death due to a compound fracture of the skull. He stated an inquest will be held.

Services On Sunday

State Patrolman George Ackerson, of the local substation, who investigated the accident, reported the Hankey child had been riding in a car driven by C. Z. Allen, Orrtanna. She alighted from the car and went around the rear of the machine and started to run across the road to her home when she ran into the left front fender of a car driven by Mr. Rinehart. Her head struck the door hinge of the left front door.

The child was born in Orrtanna and attended the Orrtanna grade school. In addition to her parents she is survived by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Clara S. Hankey, and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wetzel, all of Orrtanna.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Dr. Norman Wolf, Fairfield, and the Rev. G. W. Harrison, Bendersville. Interment in Fiohr's cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening after 7 o'clock.

East Berlin Sailor Hurt In Train Crash

Seaman Second Class Donald Volland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Volland, West King street, East Berlin, is a patient in a hospital at Lampert Field, Mo., suffering from injuries incurred when a troop train was derailed near that place.

Volland was with a group of 400 men on a troop movement from Camp Peary, Va., where he was formerly stationed, and was enroute to Camp Shoemaker, Calif., when the accident occurred near Lampert Field.

The local sailor, who is hospitalized for injuries to his arm, telephoned his parents of the accident and informed them of his condition.

36 Merchants In "Clearance Day"

Thirty-six Gettysburg merchants will participate in the first semi-annual Clearance Day observance in Gettysburg on Saturday.

It is the first Clearance Day since the official surrender of Japan. In previous years the observance was held for two days.

The participating merchants include:

Abbottstown Youth Is Hurt In Crash

Robert Meckley, 18, Abbottstown, was injured when the truck he was driving crashed into a tree along the Lincoln highway, several miles beyond West York shortly before 3 o'clock Wednesday.

Meckley, who was driving a truck owned by the Abbottstown Grain and Feed company, was treated at the West Side Osteopathic hospital for a bruised chest and lacerations of the legs.

Some feed spilled onto the highway.

State police reported that Meckley apparently swerved to avoid hitting a car which had stopped to make a left turn into the York New Salem road.

An information will be filed charging Meckley with reckless driving, police reported.

Clearance on rayon panties, all elastic waistband, small, medium and large, Friday and Saturday, only $1.00. Better hurry. Millinery, $1.00—$2.00. The Smart Shoppe, 22 Carlisle street.

Radio batteries, Baker's Battery Service.

Extend Clothing Drive One Week

Extension of the Victory Clothing Collection for one week was announced today by Cloyd Shetter, local campaign chairman, following receipt of notice from national headquarters this morning. Today was to have marked the end of the drive for clothing for war sufferers overseas.

Receiving stations will be placed in each corner of center square Saturday to receive additional donations of clothing while contributions continue to be received at the local collection center in the Epley building on South Washington street.

Chairman Shetter asked today that Boy Scouts and members of the Lions and Rotary committees sponsoring the local campaign meet at the Epley building Sunday afternoon to pack the clothing for shipment.

MORE THAN 200 AT POLIO FETE IN HOTEL HERE

More than 200 Adams countians jammed the Hotel Gettysburg Wednesday night for the annual Infantile Paralysis Fund party.

With Bill Jones' dance orchestra providing the music for the festivities the couples filled the dining room and overflowed into the grill and lobby.

One hundred and thirty-five reservations were made for tables and an additional 15 were added. The others filled the grill and lobby.

Miss Jean Musselman, daughter of Glenn Musselman, Orrtanna, and Miss Anna Mae Hemler, daughter of Charles Hemler, Gettysburg R. 3, were in charge of tickets at the affair.

General Committee

Mrs. Joseph E. Codori was general chairman for the dance with her general committee including Mares Sherman, Mrs. Anne Bachensky, Mrs. Roy Gifford, Mrs. S. Richard Eisenhart, Mrs. Harvey Raffensperger, Mrs. Clyde Plank, Mrs. Wilmer Bream, Miss Mary Bittinger, Elmer Gruver, Mrs. Leroy Sheads, Miss Irene Miller, Mrs. Steele Stuchell, Mrs. Charles Weikert and Frank Higinbotham.

M. D. DeTar, New Oxford is president of the county chapter of the national Infantile Paralysis foundation which sponsors the annual dance to raise funds for both county and national care of those suffering from the dread disease. Fred G. Pfeffer, Baltimore street, is treasurer.

Uniforms among the men were less numerous at this year's party, but the "ruptured disc," the gold pin which signifies discharge from the services, was seen in great numbers among the dancers.

Birthday greetings were extended at the party to Mr. and Mrs. DeTar and to Harry S. Oyler.

Two 17-Year-Olds Enlist In Army

Forced to wait until he became old enough to enlist, Clarence E. Anzengruber, son of John H. Anzengruber, 327 York street, joined the army Wednesday on his 17th birthday. He enlisted at the army recruiting office in the post office, in charge of Cpl. Kenneth Lieb, and was sent to Harrisburg for his examinations.

Anzengruber was a student at Gettysburg high school and was employed part time at the Acme market. A brother, Fred Anzengruber, was discharged from the army December 8, 1945, after serving more than three years in the air corps.

Carl Stull, Gettysburg R. 3, son of Mrs. Margaret Keener, has also enlisted, and will go to Harrisburg February 4. He is 17 and employed by the Gettysburg Water company. He is a member of the State Guard, and has two brothers in service, one in the navy, who has served two and a half years, a year of this time at sea, and another brother in the coast guard who has served almost four years and has approximately 23 months of sea duty.

GOING WITH CIRCUS

Victor "Swift" Palmer, York street, said today he has signed contracts to do advance advertising work for the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus during the coming season. He will start work in March.

SUSPEND LICENSE

Harrisburg, Jan. 31 (AP) — The state Liquor Control Board suspended yesterday the license of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Gettysburg Aerie No. 1562, Gettysburg, for 45 days, effective Feb. 20.

Officers of the Eagles lodge here said at noon today they have not yet received notice from Harrisburg of the suspension.

LIVENGOOD WILL BE SPEAKER FOR LINCOLN DINNER

William S. Livengood, Jr., secretary of internal affairs, will be the principal speaker for the annual Lincoln Day dinner to be held at Hotel Gettysburg on Lincoln's birthday, February 12, at 6:30 p. m., John H. Baschore, chairman of the committee announced today.

Mr. Livengood is well-known in Gettysburg and throughout the state as a speaker. The Lincoln Day dinner will be the first held in three years, and the first sponsored by the Adams County Republican committee. The dinners were not held during the war.

Plans for the dinner were made at a recent meeting of the executive and advisory committee of the county Republican committee. Tickets, it was announced, will be $1.75 each, and may be obtained from Mrs. Esther Hayberger, vice chairman; Chauncey Smith, committeeman; Allen Sharrar and Robert Thompson, assistant superintendents, or from Mr. Baschore, county chairman, at his office, 23 Baltimore street, phone 59-W. No reservations will be accepted after February 9, Mr. Baschore said.

In letters recently sent out announcing resumption of the annual dinners, Mr. Baschore said: "In this bewildering era, we may find guidance in the basic principles to which our forefathers adhered so tenaciously and which were expounded with such clarity by our Civil war president. In honoring his memory, we will profit."

WILDEY NIGHT MARKED BY 100F

Following the regular business session of Gettysburg lodge, No. 124, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Tuesday evening in the lodge rooms on Chambersburg street, a special session designated as "Wildely Night" was held with a program of musical entertainment and addresses by the Rev. (Major) George H. Berkhelmer, pastor of the Arndtsville-Flohr's charge of the Lutheran church, and Morris W. Stansbury.

The assembly, consisting of approximately 50 members and friends of the order, was called to order by J. Frank Dougherty, chairman of the anniversary committee, who stated the purpose of the gathering and requested the audience to join in singing one verse of "America" with Charles C. Rogers, lodge pianist, as accompanist. Following the singing Mr. Dougherty offered prayer.

Miss Mary Louise Spangler sang a group of three numbers: "Bird Songs at Eventide," "Comin' Thru the Rye," and "When I Have Sung My Songs." Miss Spangler was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. S. F. Snyder.

Practice Preachings

The main address of the evening was by the Rev. Mr. Berkhelmer, a member of the local lodge, who spent several years in the Pacific theatre as a chaplain in the armed forces, who based his remarks on the fundamentals of the order—friendship, love and truth. The speaker asserted that if the principles inculcated in the teachings of the order were put into practice in the world, there would exist a vast difference in the views and feelings of the peoples of the world, one with another.

He cited instances of so-called

Germans Used Yankees For Target Practice In Bulge

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Nuernberg, Jan. 31 (AP)—A German officer used a group of unarmed American prisoners of war for target practice as a prelude to the cold-blooded execution of 129 captured soldiers during the Battle of the Bulge last winter, the International Military Tribunal was told today.

The French prosecution introduced a statement by Belgian civilians describing the massacre, which occurred at a crossroads near Saint Vith on December 12, 1944.

The Americans, defending the crossroads against a Nazi offensive, took to the ditches as German tanks approached, the statement said, and the tanks fired into the ditches until the Americans threw down their guns and raised their hands in surrender.

They were led to a field a short distance away, where the Germans searched each man, taking watches, rings and other personal effects, the statement continued.

Then a German armored vehicle was rolled up and its guns trained on the group of prisoners. A Nazi officer mounted on the vehicle drew

Five Discharged By Armed Forces

Those discharged from the army at Indiantown Gap on Wednesday included Pfc. Eugene R. Sites, Iron Springs; Pfc. Warren J. Motter, Littlestown, and T/5 Raymond L. Kehr, 102 Cemetery street, Littlestown.

T/4 Charles R. Emig, East Berlin, has received his discharge at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Bertus G. Strausbaugh, CSK, 410 York street, has been discharged from the navy at New Orleans, La.

SPEAKER TELLS OF MIGRATIONS, CHURCH DUTIES

The second of a series of lectures sponsored by the Gettysburg Council of Church Women was held in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church Wednesday night. Rev. Howard Schley Fox was in charge of the devotions with Miss Alice Snyder at the piano.

Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh introduced Dr. Harry F. Baughman, professor of the Art of Preaching at the local seminary, who spoke on the topic, "Change and Decay in All Around I See," being a presentation of the national missions problem.

He opened his lecture with the statement "Our way of life has changed so materially from the horse and buggy days so often referred to by the late President Roosevelt that a whole new change of thinking is required." Under his first heading of "Mobility" Dr. Baughman cited the move from urban to suburban and outlying districts at the rate of one-half to a million people annually, accentuated by "depression period, escape idea, fear of inflation, economic freedom and better environment for children." He stated there is also a movement from country to city caused by the desire "for a status supposedly more desirable, glamor of city life, opportunity, educational opportunities and chance for greater wages, which may fail to materialize, once there. Then there is a concentric movement to industrial areas caused by war periods, wages, etc., and the movements of the migrant workers to harvest seasonal crops."

Churches Affected

The speaker discussed the "implications" of these movements which affect the church directly. He stated that "often times the character of a section will change and the population will move away from a church so that it often ends up requiring help from churches which it once started as missions." He cited instances, however, where some churches adjusted themselves to minister to the new type of people around them, "which is what the church was organized to do." He said that "while many Protestants are moving away from rural areas, the Catholic church is helping its people to establish themselves on farms and is alert to their needs and supplying them."

Social Implications

He also cited social implications, such as "education of youth, health, moral life of the community and the sense of belonging," stating that it was a lack of the latter one that was so badly felt in Germany that made the people an easy prey to Hitler's ideas. In the latter part of his lecture he discussed the "Church Facing the Change." He said "The Church may become so acquisitive and powerful its strength may destroy itself. The most effective weapon against the Japanese beetle is its own strength. Their colonies become so strong that they destroy

LOCAL SCHOOLS PAID $858.75; HEALTH EXAMS

Auditor General G. Harold Wagner has approved payment of $858.75 to the Gettysburg Borough school district. The amount represents the first payment to be made by the state under the provisions of the School Health Act passed by the 1945 Legislature.

The act became effective at the beginning of the 1945-46 school year and is administered under the supervision of the State Department of Health and the State Department of Public Instruction. It provides for the medical and dental examination of teachers, other school employees, and all pupils in grades one, three, five, seven, nine and eleven in public and private schools, so that pupils will undergo an examination net less than once every two years. However, examinations are not compulsory where there is parental objection for specified reasons.

Get Minimum Pay

Physicians and dentists are appointed, or approved by the State Secretary of Health. Physicians are paid at the rate of $1.50 per examination and may not make more than four examinations per hour. Dentists are paid at the rate of 75 cents per examination and may not make more than eight examinations per hour.

In Gettysburg Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, the examining physician, is paid at the minimum rate of $1 per examination and the dentist, Dr. James J. Munley is paid the minimum rate of 50 cents per examination. The difference is used by the school district to pay for nurses, supplies, equipment, etc.

There are more pupils to be examined by Doctor Sheely and a few scattered pupils to be examined by Doctor Munley.

The report for the Gettysburg district shows that 342 pupils and three employees received medical examinations, and 455 pupils received dental examinations.

"No Extension" On Double Deadlines

Harrisburg, Jan. 31 (AP) — The state Revenue Department reminded motorists of Pennsylvania today automobiles must bear new inspection stickers and drivers must have 1946 operators' licenses after midnight tonight.

"There will be no extension of either the inspection or the license period," a department spokesman said.

So far, 2,500,000 operators' licenses have been issued, an increase of 250,000 over the number issued up to the corresponding date of 1945.

Sgt. John MacPhail In GI Show Abroad

A veteran of Western front action with a field artillery battalion, Sgt. John MacPhail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don MacPhail, who formerly operated the West Gettysburg inn but now reside in Chester, Pa., has been touring the large cities of northern France and Belgium helping to put on the GI show "Rhaphody in Blue Serge" which he and another GI wrote.

MacPhail, who is a graduate of Gettysburg high school, has one of the leading roles in the show. His present address is Special Services, Hq. C.B.S., APO 562, care of Postmaster, N. Y.

The former Gettysburg boy served with the 759th Field Artillery Battalion through the fighting in France, Belgium and Germany.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Edgar Freeze, Thummont, and Walter Hoffman, 332 South Washington street, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. John Knox and infant son, Joseph Theodore, York street; Mrs. Robert Angel and infant son, Larry Robert, West High street; Mrs. William Gastley and infant daughter, Shirley Ann, 16 South Fifth street, and Jeannette Hawn, Gettysburg R. 5.

ISSUE ESTATE LETTERS

Letters of administration on the estate of Ray D. Bentzel, Mt. Pleasant township, who died in Hanover hospital January 20, have been issued to the widow, Mrs. Esther E. Bentzel, New Oxford R. 2. A son, Glenn W., and a daughter, Doris M. Bentzel, both of New Oxford R. 2, also survive.

TO ADDRESS S. S.

The Rev. George H. Berkhelmer, Arndtsville, will be the guest speaker at St. Mark's Lutheran Sunday school at Heidelsburg Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy and colder tonight and Friday with snow flurries in the mountains.

What-not shovels, $1.00. Wayside Flower Shop, 629-W.

Deer Strolls Through Town

Deer have been reported seen numerous times in the Round Top section this winter, and one of them today apparently strayed from its regular haunts.

John Codori, operator of a Texaco gasoline station on Steinhewer avenue, reported that the deer came out of the woods back of the national cemetery between 10:30 and 10:45 a. m. today, crossed Steinhewer avenue, passed through the driveway at the gas station, and ambled across an open field in the direction of the Warner hospital.

TWO CHURCHES GIVE 750 LBS. OF CLOTHING

Approximately 481 pounds of clothing were contributed by Zion Evangelical and Reformed church of Arndtsville, and 269 pounds by Trinity-Benders Evangelical church, Biglerville, to the current clothing collection sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches in America.

The Arndtsville and Biglerville collections were delivered to the United Service Center, a depot for the Church Committee on Overseas Relief and Reconstruction, at New Windsor, Md., by the Rev. Nevin R. Prantz, pastor of the charges. Similar clothing collections have been made elsewhere in the county and sent to New Windsor. A collection was made in Gettysburg in December, under the auspices of the Gettysburg Council of Church Women, in which 1,439 pounds were reported.

At New Windsor all clothing is unpacked, inspected and re-packed for shipment to overseas transport centers. The distribution in foreign countries is handled by representatives of the World Council Service Commission and is made to individuals by church organizations of respective countries, under guidance of commission representatives.

Use College Buildings

The clothing collection will continue until the need for these necessities is fulfilled, perhaps for several years, the COORR said. Shoes and food are also handled through the New Windsor center. Shoes received with good uppers are half-soled and new heels attached before re-packing for shipment.

The collection offers an opportunity to individuals to use this service in discarding clothing that is no longer needed. The United Service Center is located in the former Blue Ridge college buildings, which belongs to the United Brethren church. Besides a regular personnel of 130 persons, many church groups and organizations give voluntary assistance. A cafeteria is operated for those who work there. (Please turn to Page 2)

Arndtsville Club Will Present Play

The Dramatic club of the Arndtsville vocational high school will present "The Bargain Bride" in the school auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings, February 28 and March 1.

The cast, and the understudies, follow:

"Minnie," Mary Kathryn Trimmer and Janet Baltzley; "Hosanna," Jean Fissel and Darlene Dively; "Mr. Fizeby," Mildred Price and Delores Clapsaddle; "Wendy," Nancy Frederick and Jean Garretson; "Cissie," Margaret Hykes and Mary Hull; "Aunt Oma," Louise Walter and Elaine Taylor; "Mrs. Smith," Gertrude Miller; "Miss Thompson," Betty Hartzell; "Tucker," Guy Fissel and Donald Oyler; "Jimmie," Gilbert Lupp and William Trimmer; "Dex," Dale Keller and John Allison.

Pfc. Charles Jacobs To Return To Store

Pfc. Charles Jacobs, East Broadway, plans to return to his duties at Jacobs Brothers' store, center square, of which he is co-proprietor, within a week or so following his completion of 23 months of service in the U. S. army.

Trained at Camp Howze, Texas, Jacobs spent most of his time as a scout while in the European Theater with the 275th Infantry Regiment, 70th Division, first with the Third army and then with the Seventh.

Uninjured while in battle, he accidentally suffered a bullet wound of the leg in May, 1945, while guarding a German hospital. After 2½ months recuperation in an army hospital he was transferred to the 619th Quartermasters and for the last four months of his stay in the ETO assisted in operating a club for the servicemen there. He was discharged January 18.

All dresses and skirts at one-half price. Helen-Kay Shop, Chambersburg Street.

DAMAGE SUIT IS ON TRIAL ENDING JANUARY TERM

The Adams county court this afternoon was hearing the last case of the January term, an action in trespass brought by Irving Bierer, East Middle street, against Monroe Dellinger, North Stratton street.

Bierer is seeking payment of damages to his car as a result of an accident August 3, 1945, when Dellinger is said to have crashed into the Bierer automobile about 4½ miles west of Cashtown as Bierer was attempting to complete a left turn.

The jury in the action in replevin brought by George Waganam, Emmitsburg, against Lawrence Rexroth, Littlestown R. 4, was considering its decision at noon today, having retired at 11:25 o'clock this morning.

Finish Criminal List

Wednesday afternoon in the last criminal action brought before the court in the January session a jury spent only 15 minutes in finding Oliver Kuykendall, Jr., Gettysburg R. 5, guilty of assault and battery against Mary Vial, a waitress at Mitchell's restaurant.

Attorney John P. Butt, who has been connected either as attorney for the defendant or plaintiff with every case brought before the court this session, is representing Bierer in that action while Keith, Bigham and Markley are representing Dellinger. Mr. Bierer had nearly completed his testimony at the start of the trial this morning when the court recessed for lunch until 1:15 p. m.

The jury in the Waganam-Rexroth case decides the question of whether a young bull was included in a sale of livestock made by Rexroth to Waganam. According to testimony given by the Emmitsburg resident, Rexroth invited him out to the Rexroth farm to buy some livestock. There Waganam said, on February 16, 1945, he paid Rexroth $100 for eight white shoats and a small bull. When he returned a week later to pick up the animals Rexroth refused to let him take the bull and tried to return some money for the bull. The Littlestown R. D. farmer's contention is that Waganam dropped out to the Rexroth farm; that Rexroth and Waganam agreed to sale of the shoats and that while they discussed the possibility of selling the bull no agreement was reached. He was, he stated, willing to return Waganam's money when he refused to take the pigs without the bull.

Procession of Witnesses

The jury found Kuykendall guilty on assault and battery at 3:15 Wednesday afternoon. Kuykendall is alleged to have slapped Mrs. Vial about the face "three or four" times with his hat while leaving a booth at Mitchell's. Waganam denied all charges and brought a procession of about a dozen witnesses who testified that they "had not seen" Kuykendall perform the assault.

The jury on the Waganam-Rexroth case includes Mrs. Elizabeth Benner, Fairfield; Harry Bittinger, Cashtown; Anna B. Collins, Gettysburg R. 1; Luther W. Epley, Littlestown; Mrs. Myron Mickle, Orrtanna; Miss Emma Myers, Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. Gladys V. Schwartz, Littlestown; Bruce Shaeffer, Biglerville R. D.; E. M. Sites, Gettysburg R. 5; Smith, New Oxford; William Snyder, New Oxford, and Charles Woodward, Gettysburg.

Hearing the Bierer-Dellinger case is the following jury: Gilbert Bly, Bendersville; Miss Maude A. Bream, Gettysburg; Martin P. Diller, Abbottstown R. 1; E. H. Fohl, Aspers R. D.; Lester N. Hoover, Abbottstown; Charles C. Little, Littlestown R. 2; Bernard Murren, Hanover R. 4; Walter Rhodes, Fairfield R. 2; Ralph Rohrbough, Hanover R. 1; Wilmer Sanders, Fairfield R. 1; George Schriver, Bendersville, and Mrs. Buela Zeigler, Gettysburg R. 3.

Following the selection of the two juries for the civil trials Wednesday the remaining 24 members of the January jury were excused by the court.

Victim Of Fire Interred Today

Funeral services were held from St. Mary's Catholic church, New Oxford, this morning at 8 o'clock for Mrs. Sarah Ellen Sterner, 83, Mt. Pleasant township, who burned to death when fire destroyed her home Monday night. The Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, rector, officiated. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

The pallbearers were Lloyd Harman, Raymond Sneringer, Orville Topper and William Orndorff.

"NO ACTION"

The Adams county commissioners considered further a petition submitted to it two weeks ago against location of the new jail on the Biglerville road, on the county poor farm site, but took no action Wednesday, at their regular weekly meeting.

SPAIN SLOW TO TRANSFORM INTO MECHANIZED AGE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP World Traveler)

Madrid, Jan. 31—You have not felt the pulse of Spain until you have traveled the broad highway from Madrid to the ancient city of Toledo—not that Toledo itself is any gauge, for it is largely a record of the past, but along this road you get a measure of Spanish tempo and economic position.

It is an altogether fascinating and illuminating experience as Mrs. Mack and I found on making the 57-mile trip southward from Madrid by motor. The Toledo road takes you with startling abruptness from the thronged streets of the capital into the broadly rolling Castilian plain where, as far as the eye can reach, there stretch out before you highly cultivated farmlands.

Great Crop Areas

There are great areas which are sown to barley and wheat, interspersed with big fields of vegetables from which Madrid gets many of its supplies. Scattered across the plains are green groves of olive trees and almonds and vineyards.

It is a picture of intensive farming and as tidy an agricultural scene as you would find. Scarcely a foot of ground is untilled and the furrows from the winter plowing stretch away for miles in rows so neat that they seem to be laid out by instrument.

All of this fits into the estimate of the other European countries which remained neutral during the world conflict. This does not mean, of course that Spain is not having her troubles—for she is—but relatively speaking she is not so badly off, as things stand on this war-shattered continent.

Well-Tilled Lands

Maybe your globe-trotting correspondents are over imaginative, but the Toledo road and the Castilian plain seemed to tell us more than that. The world has come to think of Spain as a dreamy land of tomorrow where life moves slowly. Yet there in these well-tilled lands are the concrete evidence of hard and active work. Indeed, as we came back to Madrid from Toledo in the twilight, farmers still plowed their fields.

The Toledo road does remind one, however, that Spain is taking her time in moving into the mechanized age. Along this highway, which is one of the main arteries of Spain, there is a curious mingling of the old world and the new.

Automobiles and motor trucks race past slow moving two-wheeled covered carts, drawn by mule teams and harnessed in single file—sometimes four of these powerful animals for which Spain is famous. And this old world picture is highlighted by the occasional appearance of a drowsy team of oxen.

TWO CHURCHES

Volunteers who would like to help are asked to write Wilbur Mullen, personnel director, United Service Center, New Windsor, Md.

A new high was reached at the center early this month, when the week ending January 5 brought in 85,654 pounds of clothing. The same week five and a half tons of food arrived. On January 6, 245 bales of clothing were shipped to China. The week of January 6 to 11 saw 1,471 cases of food leaving for shipment to the World Council Service at Geneva, Switzerland.

Gather Food, Too

The OCORR has also announced shipment from other points of canned goods, rice from Louisiana and corn from Iowa, Nebraska and Ohio for Italy. Approximately 175 head of cattle left Union Bridge, Md., January 6 for Czechoslovakia and plans were made for shipment of 350 head to France.

The effort to feed and clothe the people in Europe and Asia who have suffered in the past war has found churches of many denominations united in this vast program of material aid, the service center points out. A similar center is established at Modesta, Calif., and OCORR has approved the establishment of 11 processing centers to be located in various parts of the United States; three in the east, one in the south, four in the middle west and three in the west.

Soil Conservation Program February 6

A soil conservation program for farmers and their families will be presented in the Gettysburg high school auditorium at 8 p. m. February 6, according to a display advertisement in today's edition of The Gettysburg Times.

The program, sponsored by the Citizens Oil company, distributors of Texaco and Goodrich products, will depict, in moving pictures, the latest and most modern methods of soil conservation. The movies will include "This Is Our Land" and "Hold Your Horsepower," a Walt Disney technicolor film.

Twenty prizes will be awarded during the evening.

The program is listed as the 1946 Victory Parade of Advanced conservation.

At present, approximately 80 per cent of all tooth brushes are made from nylon bristles.

Social Happenings

Phone Gettysburg 640 or Biglerville 8

The auxiliary of the Adams County Fish and Game association will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Legion post home on Baltimore street. The hostesses will be Mrs. Ivan Breighner and Mrs. Grayson Addlesberger.

Joseph A. Maguire, York, was a recent visitor at the home of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Maguire, East Middle street.

Mrs. Archie Hug and daughter, Gayle, East Middle street, are visiting relatives in Smithport.

Mrs. David Blocher entertained the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club this week at her home on West Middle street. The club will meet next week with Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, Oak Ridge.

First Lt. and Mrs. Gerald Plank, Florida, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Plank, Hanover, spent a day this week with Mrs. Gladys V. Currens, Cashtown, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keller, Chambersburg R. D. They will leave Friday for Tennessee where Lt. Plank will be stationed. Lieutenant Plank made 20 missions over Germany as a pilot.

Mrs. Richard C. Lighter, Mrs. Mervin U. Bream, Mrs. Arthur Phil, Mrs. Richard Folkenroth and Miss Catherine Ross attended a conference for Girl Scout leaders in Hanover Wednesday evening. The Intermediate Scout leaders met at the Girl Scout headquarters and the Brownie Scout leaders at the Richmond McAllister hotel. A joint session of the groups will be held next Wednesday at the Girl Scout headquarters in Hanover at which time "Arts and Crafts" will be the topic for study. Anyone interested in Scout work is invited to attend.

Surviving the deceased are a daughter, Miss Florence Ruff, of Middletown, and a sister, Miss Elmina Ruff, Gettysburg. Mr. Ruff, who was connected with a Philadelphia drug firm, began his profession in the late Randolph Wehler's drug store in New Oxford.

Interment was made in the Ruff family plot in the New Oxford cemetery.

Adjourn Hearing On Peace Charge

Adjournment of a hearing on a surety of the peace charge against Mrs. Oscar Garner, York Springs R. 1, was ordered by Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore Wednesday night until February 5, and Mrs. Garner was released on her own recognizance.

Squire Baschore said testimony showed that Mr. and Mrs. Garner are contemplating separating, and that Mr. Garner went to his home for some personal belongings. Mrs. Garner refused to allow him to take them, he said, and threatened her husband with a gun.

She was arrested Wednesday morning by Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff and Trooper Robert Dietrich of the state police, and committed to jail until the hearing Wednesday night in default of $300 bail.

Production Being Delayed By Strike

New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—Officials of Westinghouse Electric corporation—one of the major companies involved in an industry strike since January 15—estimate it may be fall before electrical appliance production reaches quantity levels.

They stated at a preview of the company's consumer products yesterday that such output was 40 per cent below prewar figures before the strike began.

One optimistic note was sounded, however, in the concern's prediction that increased use of the industry's home services would provide jobs for more than 600,000 men and women and would mean an annual business of $44,500,000,000 during the next five years.

The firm announced today at Pittsburgh that approximately 12,000 non-striking salaried employees will continue to draw their regular salaries for the first half of February.

FILES FOR DIVORCE

NEW NATIONAL DEFENSE ACT TO BE DRAFTED

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—The House Military committee today spoked administration hopes of early action on a continued draft law and universal military training.

It decided to concentrate instead on a new national defense act.

A special nine-man subcommittee was assigned to work out recommendations for this measure which will blueprint the overall peacetime structure of the army.

The army meanwhile moved to step up the flow of replacements for long-service GI's overseas. The training period for future replacements was ordered cut to eight weeks. Previously 13 to 17 weeks' training was required.

Tipoff On Occupation

The War Department has been claiming that it is hard put to provide sufficient replacements to keep pace with the present rate of demobilization.

In addition, the army disclosed it is going to let families of officers and top non-coms join them overseas.

The big tipoff of an extended occupation job was the announcement that priority will go to families of men agreeing to remain abroad two more years, or at least one.

Personnel affected by the announcement are commissioned and warrant officers; master, first, technical and staff sergeants, and certain War Department civilian employees whose families are authorized by law to travel at federal expense.

Men Originate Applications

For the time being, at least, dependents of the lower enlisted grades will not be permitted to go overseas, War Department officials said, because of a housing shortage. However, the army was said to be studying a proposal to include them in the program later.

Even for families technically eligible there were some catches in the program announced late yesterday by the War Department.

In the first place, theater commanders must certify that adequate housing, food and medical care is available.

Applications must originate with the men overseas, not with their dependents.

The War Department indicated that the movement of the first dependents to Europe is expected to start some time after April 1. A month later it will get under way for the Philippines, Japan, Korea and the Ryukyu Island chain.

STATE TO SPEND $10,000,000 ON WILLIAM PENN

Harrisburg, Jan. 31 (AP)—Bids will be asked within 60 days. Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer announced today, for construction projects to cost $10,000,000 on U. S. Route 22, the historic William Penn highway.

Work will start as soon as the frost is out of the ground, he added.

"When these improvements are made U. S. Route 22 will be on a par with any route within the commonwealth," Shroyer declared, pointing out that the highway connects central Pennsylvania with both Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Most To Be Four-Lane

Shroyer said plans call for construction of 21.69 miles of road, most of it four lanes in width, and includes a new bridge at Huntingdon to carry the highway over the Pennsylvania railroad and the Juniata river.

He listed the projects as follows: From Fort Hunter, above Harrisburg, 1.89 miles to a point just below Dauphin, all four-lane construction. Continuing this project will be additional construction of three and four lanes from Speeceville for 2.35 miles to Clark's Ferry bridge, all in Dauphin county.

At Mount Union new construction for 1.98 miles will provide for two and four-lane improvements to existing highway in Huntingdon county.

Other Projects

A new bridge and construction of 7.5 miles of highway in and around the city of Huntingdon will result in relocation of the present road to eliminate three underpasses and provide a spur into the Huntingdon business district—all in Huntingdon county.

Additional construction along the present route will provide for 3.97 miles of improvements west of Huntingdon in the vicinity of New Alexandria.

Construction of an underpass and new roadbed west of Blairsville extending for a distance of approximately two miles toward Pittsburgh, and two miles toward Greensburg, the latter work along U. S. Route 119 in Westmoreland county, is included.

One Babe Burned As Brother Is Rescued

Greensburg, Pa., Jan. 31 (AP)—One baby was burned to death and another narrowly escaped the same fate when fire swept their eight-room home yesterday at the nearby mining community of Edna No. 1.

Neighbors lifted 16-months-old James Reginald Kemp out of a window, after he had crawled into the kitchen of the home, but were unable to reach his four-month-old brother, Ronald George Kemp, who perished in the flames.

Coroner Albert McMurray said the fire, of unknown origin, apparently started while the mother, Mrs. Bernice Kemp, and another son, Clarence Eugene, 3, were shopping at a nearby store.

Divorce Decree Is Ordered By Court

A decree in divorce was granted Wednesday by Judge W. C. Sheely to Mary E. (Heldbridge) Harmon, Railroad street, against Donald H. Harmon, Gettysburg R. 2.

The couple was married August 7, 1932, at Silver Run, Md. Three grounds were alleged, cruel and barbarous treatment, indignities to the person, and desertion.

WED IN HANOVER

The marriage of Miss Genevieve Frances Beck, daughter of Mrs. Genevieve Beck Yohe, Hanover, and Bernard Ignacius Oaster, also of Hanover, took place Wednesday at Hanover. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mark P. McElwee.

heaven folk who were impressed with the practice of Christianity by Americans, as individuals and as groups. He asserted that if the teachings of the order mean anything to its adherents they should put them into actual practice.

A group of three vocal numbers were contributed by a mixed quartet comprising Mrs. Donald Myers, Mrs. Donald Pisci, Paul A. Snyder and Howard S. Fox, Jr. The selections included "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain," "When I Grow Too Old to Dream" and "Grandfather's Clock."

Founded Order In U. S.

Following these numbers the chairman called upon Mr. Stansbury, who gave a short resume of the life of Thomas Wildey, founder of Odd Fellowship in America. Mr. Wildey was born in London, England, January 15, 1782. Mr. Stansbury said. Attaining manhood, he affiliated with the Odd Fellows in his native land. Coming to this country in 1817, he set about to organize a lodge. Finding a requisite number who belonged to the order in England, and their credentials in order, Wildey, with four others, instituted the first lodge of the IOOF in Baltimore April 26, 1819. The lodge was named Washington lodge, No. 1, and is still in existence.

The speaker told of the untiring efforts of Mr. Wildey in spreading the order in the United States. The first lodge instituted in Pennsylvania came into being on December 26, 1821. Mr. Wildey died in Baltimore in 1862, and was buried in Greenmount cemetery with all the pomp and panoply befitting his place of prominence in the order.

Following the meeting refreshments were served.

1ST HALF LEAD GIVES BULLETS 46-37 TRIUMPH

Thanks to an 18-point margin gained in the first half, the Gettysburg college basketball team won their eighth decision in nine starts here Wednesday evening before a capacity crowd by defeating Bucknell 46-37 in a northern division game of the Middle Atlantic conference.

Coach "Hen" Bream's boys appeared on the way to an easy conquest in the first half as they ran wild to pile up a 31-13 advantage at half time but collapsed in the second half to allow the Bisons to outscore them 24-15.

Roger Herr, Bullet guard, turned in a nice performance by holding Bucknell's ace, Haas, to but four points for the evening.

Flying Start
Plank opened the scoring about half a minute after the opening whistle with a long shot which was followed by a foul by Seel. Herr and Welliver netted free tosses before Fleuchaus netted a short toss. Howard stabbed a one-hander through the net and Herr landed the second of two free tosses. Successive goals by Howard and Kaczowski sent the Gettysburg lead to 13-3 after eight minutes. Seel netted a long throw and Wilson added a foul for the Bisons. A pair of fouls by Kaczowski gave the Bullets a 15-6 advantage at the quarter.

The second period was a repetition of the first as the Bream-men dominated play throughout with each of the starters breaking into the scoring. Bucknell appeared thoroughly beaten at half time when they trailed 31-13.

Play of the Bullets grew ragged in the third period as both their attack and defense sagged. Little scoring was done; Gettysburg's tallies coming on a goal and pair of fouls by Welliver and another free toss by Herr while Bucknell tallied on a pair of goals by Seel, a single twin-pointer by Edmunds and a charity toss by Haas. Going into the last period the locals led 36-20.

Bisons Cut Lead
The Bisons cut the Bullets' lead to 37-29 in the first three minutes of the last frame but the Bream-men recovered and matched them point for point until the finish.

Cal Welliver led the scoring for the evening with 14 points, eight of which were from the 15-foot mark.

Jayvees Win
In a rough and tumble contest the Gettysburg Jayvees inaugurated their brief season by nailing out the York Junior college cagers 37-36 in the preliminary affair. York set the pace most of the way with the Bullets pulling the game from the fire in the last minute of play.

An innovation introduced at the game was a loud-speaker system through which an announcer identified players and announced each of the scoring plays.

On Saturday the Bullet varsity journeys to Bethlehem to meet Lehigh in another division contest.

SPIL ABOLISHES TWO-DIVISION COURT PROGRAM

The two-division setup in the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic Basketball league will be abolished next year when the circuit will function as one league again. It was decided at the spring meeting of the conference held Wednesday evening at the Carlisle Inn.

During the war years the league was split into two divisions to curtail travel. A schedule for the 1946-47 campaign was drawn up and will include each team playing a 14-game schedule.

Mark Burkhardt, Carlisle, was elected as the new president. Other officers named were James Haggarty, Mechanicsburg, vice president, and Macley Kelly, Mechanicsburg, secretary-treasurer.

Saturday, May 11, was set for the annual conference track meet this year.

spring which will be held in Carlisle, Chambersburg, Carlisle, Gettysburg and Hanover will enter teams.

Approve Officials
A new official list of basketball officials for next year was approved by the school officials.

It was revealed that Chambersburg, Shippensburg, Carlisle, Mechanicsburg, Hanover and Hershey will sponsor baseball teams this spring. It was indicated a South Penn league may be organized in another year.

All members of the conference were represented at the meeting. Gettysburg's representatives included Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, Prof. Guile W. Lefever, Prof. Fred Troxell, and Coaches George Forney and William Ridinger.

The first Europeans to visit the new world found the Indians collecting and using petroleum.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

GROWN-UPS

Grown-ups think it is silly to race Helter-skelter all over the place. Grown-ups fancy that laughter is wrong—A bit too loud or a bit too long. Grown-ups think toys should be put away. Grown-ups are funny folks, I should say.

Grown-ups "shush" when the children shout. They stay indoors when it's nicer out. Grown-ups take children for a walk. Mett other grown-ups and stand and talk. Grown-ups want everything done their way. Grown-ups are funny folks, I should say.

Whenever to grown-ups children go. The answer is always: "Don't!" or "No!" Grown-ups imagine we all were born to play the piano or toot a horn. They make us practice three hours a day. Grown-ups are funny folks, I should say.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
ORGANIZED HUMAN BEINGS

There are men who are great executives, who have achieved marvelous results in organization of their business and vast enterprises, but who have failed miserably in the organization of themselves.

The death rate of these top men is tragic. The world needs them. Many of them boast they have never taken a vacation, that they have no hobbies to ease the strain of their labors, and that they are too busy to enjoy the simplest diversions that might add years to their lives. They save others, through their genius for organization, themselves they do not save.

There is nothing more inspiring than a well organized mind — one that has respect for its gift of organization, and puts it into personal application.

It is easy enough to recognize a finely organized business, the moment you look upon it. It is just as easy to recognize a well organized human being the moment you look upon one. There are poise, health, and power illustrated in the very face and manner. And behind it all, a silent reserve and potentiality.

The great executive delegates. His mind's eye streams invisible rays to all the parts of his great organization. He dismisses the importance of regular hours for himself, for time to eat undisturbed and relaxed, for essential exercise, and diversions of mind that the body so much demands. He himself is unorganized!

The long life of a business, or even of a nation, is dependent upon the proper organization. It's the same with a human being. A lot of happiness slips away, never suspected, because of personal disorganization. And how simple, and possible, the opportunity to have had its thrill and joy!

The happiest, and healthiest human being is that one who has every voluntary organ of the body under perfect control. That one is organized for a full and useful life. That one lives!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Thoughts—Our Guests."

London Meeting To Adjourn On Feb. 9

London, Jan. 31 (AP)—United Nations leaders were reported in agreement today on February 9 as the virtually certain date for adjournment of the London meeting of the General Assembly.

Immediately after that date all UNO establishments, including the staff and the security council, will be moved to the United States. The exact site has not yet been selected, although it will be in the vicinity of Boston or New York.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
TWENTY YEARS AGO

Local Girl Weds College Senior: A romance of two members of the senior class at Gettysburg college, which blossomed into marriage at Baltimore, June 20, last year, was made public on Saturday. Announcement of the marriage of Miss Marion Isabelle Taylor to Carlton W. Bauder, of Johnstown, New York, both members of the senior class at Gettysburg college, was made by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Taylor, Carlisle street.

Mr. Bauder was soldiering at Camp Meade, Maryland, last June. During a week-end visit at the camp, Miss Taylor became the bride of Mr. Bauder. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Wallace, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Baltimore.

Dr. Crist Heads County Doctors: Dr. C. G. Crist was elected president of the Adams county Medical Society, succeeding Dr. H. M. Hartman, at the annual meeting of the medical society, at the Annie M. Warner hospital, Friday evening. Other officers elected were Dr. Albert Woomer, first vice president; Dr. B. C. Jones, second vice president; Dr. J. P. Dalbey, secretary-treasurer, and censors, Dr. Hartman, Dr. T. C. Miller and Dr. Eugene Elgin.

After the meeting of the medical society, the staff of the Warner hospital held its annual meeting, electing Dr. H. S. Crouse, president, and Dr. E. A. Miller, secretary.

Local Man Weds Saturday: Miss Lida Margaret Waybright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Waybright, Freedom township, and Herbert Crouse, Gettysburg, were married at the home of the bride on Saturday, January 23, at 12:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. K. Young, Freedom township.

Manages Store in Chambersburg: Raymond Foulk, Gettysburg, R. D., on Monday took over the management of the American Store, Chambersburg, after having been employed for two years at the local store in that chain. Claire Routsong, Bendersville, has taken Mr. Foulk's place in the local American Store.

County Officer Buys Property: Charles G. Taughinbaugh, register and recorder for Adams county, on Saturday afternoon purchased at an executor's sale the property of his mother, the late Mrs. Sarah A. E. Taughinbaugh, corner of North Washington and Water streets. The consideration was $2,200. The executors were William A. and J. Harvey Taughinbaugh.

99 Full-Time Guides Given '26 Licenses: Ninety-nine active, full-time guides and three part-time guides have been licensed for 1926 by William Storrick, superintendent of guides.

W. Preston Hull, Chambersburg street, has been added as a fulltime guide to fill the vacancy caused by the death last year of J. C. Wierman, York street.

Vacancies caused by the suspension of two guides have been filled by the licensing of Robert J. Bollinger and Charles H. Stevens.

If James E. McDonnell and Daniel E. Shealer are unable to return to work this year, Harry E. Bumbaugh and Edmund Rosensteel will substitute for them.

Licensed to Wed: A marriage license was issued Saturday morning at the office of Luther C. Plank, clerk of the courts, to Henry D. Cooley, New Chester, and Mary C. Mummert, Hamilton township.

Hat Store Manager: On Monday, Miss Kathryn Bender, Water street, will begin her duties as manager of a local hat store. Miss Bender succeeds Miss Gertrude Cease, Orrtanna, who has gone to Salisbury, Maryland to accept a similar position.

Local Man Will Address C. of C.: Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer will be the speaker at the first of a series of get-together meetings held by the Chamber of Commerce on Friday evening, February 5, at the Forty and Eight organization rooms on the third floor of the First National Bank building.

Remarkable Growth of Theatre in Gettysburg: The completed Strand theatre presents the very acme in amusement play-houses. Projection of motion pictures has reached the highest level of efficiency and patrons of the Baltimore street theatre are pleased with the modernly-equipped home.

In 1911, Harry J. Troxell, a student at Gettysburg college, and for a time machine operator at the theatre, purchased the "Pastime" from Jacob Ramer and Charles Holtzworth. Mr. Troxell's late father was associated with him as was Mr. Troxell's brother, who remained but a short time, disposing of his interest to Harry J. Troxell.

The theatre's name was changed to "Photoplay" which name was retained until the renovation last fall, when it was changed to the "Strand."

Personal: The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Diefenderfer, Washington, D. C., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bream, East Middle street.

PITT CAULDRON BUBBLES WITH RESIGNATIONS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 31 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh's smouldering football cauldron was bubbling today with the resignations of all three of the school's assistant coaches—there's an "if" attached.

The trio—Charles (Doc) Hartwig, Bobby Hoel and Stan Olen—told athletic director James Hagan yesterday that they "do not care" to continue coaching if Clark Shaughnessy comes back next season as head mentor.

Hagan said the three assistants had tried to resign last Nov. 8, but that he had persuaded them to remain for the rest of the 1945 season. He said their action was referred to the faculty committee on athletics.

Shaughnessy Won't Quit: Shaughnessy said he had no official word of the resignations, and added that he would not quit as head coach.

"I'm not mad at anybody. I still think I can produce a winner here," declared the T-formation authority, who has coached Pitt grid teams through three unhappy wartime seasons.

"It is because I think I can win regularly at Pitt under peacetime conditions that I intend to stay," Shaughnessy continued. "Inasmuch as I haven't heard one single hint from anyone in authority at Pitt that I'm going to be let out, I'm going on the belief that I'll remain. It's a kind of challenge."

He was asked if he thought he'd have any trouble getting a new staff of assistants.

"Trouble?" he scoffed. "Why do you know I could have had assistants come here and work for nothing?"

The assistants who resigned made it clear either Shaughnessy goes or they go.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

When Jim Tatum, Oklahoma's new football coach held his first press conference the other day, a photographer demanded: "Show me a dimple." . . . Jim put on his best grin (and why shouldn't he at $27,000 for three years?) and wisecracked: "This may be the last time I'll smile for three years."

TELLS VETS HOW TO PROCEED TO GET OLD JOBS

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—What should a veteran do when he fails to get his old job back?

The Justice Department's top official on veterans' affairs, assistant Attorney General John P. Sonnett, gave this answer today:

Consult the nearest United States attorney.

In an interview, Sonnett said "U. S. attorneys have a specific statutory duty to give legal services without charge in cases involving veterans' re-employment rights. There are 98 such attorneys in strategic cities throughout the country." Many veterans, Sonnett said, are not aware that the Justice Department is specifically charged by law with protecting their job rights. This includes giving legal advice and representing the veteran in court.

Small Percentage

While noting that reported violations are increasing with "several hundred" complaints before the department's new veterans' affairs section, Sonnett emphasized this point:

"The overwhelming majority of employers have taken veterans back in the same or better jobs. The cases we have represent but a minute fraction of the veterans who sought and got back their old jobs."

If a veteran for any reason is unable to contact a U. S. attorney, he may write directly to the Veterans Affairs Section, Department of Justice, Washington. Many already are doing this.

Crane, however, ask for help on matters over which the department has no jurisdiction. For example, a veteran who has a brush with the law decides to get a divorce cannot call on a U. S. attorney to represent him.

Stroudsburg, Pa., Jan. 31 (AP)—Six teams — Stroudsburg, Carbondale, Nazareth and Mahanoy City in Pennsylvania, and Newburgh and Peekskill in New York—will be represented in the North Atlantic baseball league, a new class D. circuit, which is to begin operations this year.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear wife and mother, Lottie Genevieve Sanders, who departed this life one year ago, January 31, 1945.

What would we give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face to see,
To hear her voice, to see her smile
As in the days that used to be.

The voice is mute, and stilled the heart,
That loved us well and true;
Oh, bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you!

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall,
You had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought death so near.
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain in parting from one loved well.

You are not forgotten, loved one;
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.

Mr. Marshall Sanders and Family.

Second Half Title Races Get Underway

Harrisburg, Jan. 31 (P)—Second-half title races get under way in Pennsylvania's scholastic basketball ranks tomorrow with Allentown in the east and Warren in the west still the teams that must be beaten in the drive toward a state title.

Allentown has rolled up 14 straight this year, and 31 over a two-year period to clinch the first-half crown in the Eastern Pennsylvania con-ference. The Canaries meet Bethle-hem at home in the second-half opener as Hazleton plays at Easton with Pottsville drawing a bye.

Warren, after its winning streak was snapped by Oil City, bounded back to take the measure of Erie Technical last week and then moved into a tie for first place in the Section Two, District Ten, race by crushing Franklin, 36-22, to make it 14 wins in 15 starts.

Lancaster, halted by William Penn, 43-35, in its dash to a possible central conference title will meet John Harris at home while Lebanon plays at Reading. On Saturday night Steelton clashes with William Penn at Harrisburg.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31 (P)—Approx-imately 1,200 persons, including a score of sports celebrities, will at-tend the Philadelphia Sporting Writers Association's 42nd annual banquet tonight. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, baseball commissioner, and Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football league, head the list of speakers. Byron Nelson, the professional golfer named the out-standing athlete of 1945 by the as-sociation, will be honored in ab-sentia.

MUHLENBERG IS RATED AS TOP STATE QUINTET

By LEE LINDER

Philadelphia, Jan. 31 (P)—The Mighty Mules of Muhlenberg are the toast of Pennsylvania collegiate basketball circles today—respec-tfully rated the top team in the Key-stone state.

And not without reason. Muhlenberg chalked up its 13th victory last night, running up a 73-37 adding machine score on hap-less Lehigh university. The Engi-neers stayed at the throttle only during the first period when they held the Mules to a slim 10-9 ad-vantage.

After that, Muhlenberg had things pretty much its own way with Harry Denovan taking scoring honors with 21 points on eight field goals and five fouls.

Not undefeated—an early season loss against "hot and cold" Temple university is the only blemish on a good record—the Allentown boys face Bucknell on the Bisons court Saturday. And the dopesters say the Mules have this one sewed up al-most before the opening whistle.

Pitt Loses
Ohio state's big ten championship contenders had no trouble putting the University of Pittsburgh's win hopes in the moth balls last night. The invading Buckeyes won 43-33.

Westminster entertains the Oimstead field Flyers tonight, while Scranton plays host to Sedalia army air field tomorrow evening.

Besides the Muhlenberg-Bucknell contest Saturday night, the sched-ule shows Gettysburg at Lehigh; Lafayette at Stevens Institute; Scranton at Albright; Pittsburgh at Penn State; Bainbridge naval at Villanova; Penn at Cornell; La Salle at St. Joseph's; West Virginia at Temple; Washington and Jeffer-son at Betheny (W. Va.); Carnegie Tech at Juniata, and Swarthmore at Drexel.

Gettysburg recorded its eighth victory of the season against only one defeat by humbling Bucknell, 46-37; St. Joseph's college snapped a two-game losing streak at the expense of Elizabethtown, 39-56; Ursinus defeated the Garnet of Swarthmore, 50-34 to avenge an earlier season loss; Drexel Institute of Technology dropped another con-test—it wasn't won yet—when Leba-non Valley college found the going easy, 55-39; Princeton's Tiger clawed the Villanova Wildcat, 44-36, and Lock Haven Teachers' edged Mil-lersville Teachers', 39-33, in other games.

In the top contest in western Penn-sylvania.

In all the Keystone state's college quintets did not fare too well last night. Eleven teams lost; six record-ed wins.

Penn State's Nittany Lions almost pulled the surprise of the evening against Army, losing to the cadets, 46-45, at West Point.

The Philadelphia navy base ex-tended its win streak to 27 straight as it pulverized Penn's Ivy League five, 64-38.

West Virginia university, one of the three undefeated teams in the nation, kept its victory ledger spot-less by trouncing Geneva, 72-45.

GOP LEADERS AWAIT REPLY FROM MARTIN

Harrisburg, Jan. 31 (P)—Republican leaders held off their slate-making today as Governor Martin considered his answer to "draft Martin" petitions from 64 counties, urging him to run for the party's U. S. senatorial nomination.

State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor and 19 other executive committee members literally dropped the petitions on the Governor's desk yesterday. The Governor told Taylor he couldn't give an answer yet, but would, "soon."

Emphasizing that nothing he said was to be construed as indicating his plans, Martin told newsmen that "if I am a candidate, I will be on a slate and I will support the slate and will want it to do the things that will be of the greatest benefit to the whole state, regardless of factions, sections, or anything else."

Running-Mate In Doubt

Asked about reports that if he ran, his team-mate for governor would be Lt. Gov. John C. Bell, Martin declared: "I haven't any commitment, even in my own mind, as to whom that will be."

Taylor and a score of party leaders had a luncheon-meeting to go over the "draft" petitions before taking them to the Governor's office. There, G. Harold Watkins, Taylor's assistant, read one of them.

It asserted "it is greatly in the interest of the people" that Martin "be drafted as a candidate for the United States Senate" and that "this conclusion is reached both as a result of the demand of the Republican voters" and as a result of the Governor's "remarkably successful administration of the business of the commonwealth during the critical war years."

Taylor said the resolution was adopted unanimously and that the only counties whose petitions hadn't yet been returned were Clarion, Delaware and Forest. He noted he hadn't set any deadline for their return.

"New Situation"

The state chairman reported the executive committee would recess until it received Martin's answer.

Martin told of his "surprise" at presentation of a similar petition yesterday by representatives of nine foreign-language groups, and went on, "and then to have this group backed-up by 64 of our 67 counties puts me in a different position than I've ever been in in my life."

"You know, Lincoln was a party man," he said, "well, I've always been a party man. I've never wanted to run for office. My wife and myself have talked this thing over. We want to go back home. My business associates are demanding me. I can't reply just now, but you're entitled to an answer. I'll give you an answer pretty quickly."

State Fairs Topped Million Mark In '45

Reading, Pa., Jan. 31 (P)—Sixty-five county fairs in Pennsylvania last year had a gross income from all sources of more than a million dollars, the Pennsylvania State Association of County Fairs was told today.

Charles W. Swoyer, of Reading, association secretary, said a report prepared jointly by the Department of Agriculture and the association showed it was the second million-dollar year on record.

"The gross of $1,059,757," he said, "compares with the previous high of $1,017,622 for the year 1937 when 79 fairs were held in the state."

Attendance at the 1945 fairs reached 1,608,983 compared with 1,324,410 in 1944 and the all-time high of 3,608,355 established in 1939 when 84 fairs were held. Premiums last year totaled $95,393, the report said, and of this amount, state payments aggregated $40,042—an increase of $4,175 over the previous year.

LOAN TO BRITISH HITS TWO SNAGS

Washington, Jan. 31 (P)—The controversial $3,750,000,000 British loan proposal hit a double snag today as the very start of its stormy course across capitol hill.

While there were some prospects that the loan bill might clear the barrier Senator Langer (R-ND) raised to its immediate introduction in that filibuster-chamber, the problem of committee action was badly complicated.

Steel Strike Makes Another 10,000 Idle In Related Industries Today

ABOVE 54,000 IDLE BESIDES STEEL WORKERS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 31 (AP)—The nationwide steel strike, now in its 11th day, picked up momentum today in its impact on related industries, making idle more than 10,000 workers for a total of 54,000 to date.

The figures do not include the approximately 750,000 CIO-United Steelworkers directly concerned in the strike.

The Ford Rouge plant at Detroit laid off 5,000 assembly line workers on its morning shift today. This in addition to 15,000 sent home last Friday. The Rouge plant still has 50,000 workers left but only a few of these are on assembly.

Farm Implements Hit

The Oliver corporation, makers of farm implements and tractors, announced at Chicago it was dismissing for an indefinite period about 5,200 employees in plants at Battle Creek, Mich., Cleveland and Springfield, Ohio, Charles City, Iowa, and Shelbyville, Ill.

Oliver officials said further layoffs and possibly plant shutdowns, were imminent because of shortages resulting from strikes in the steel, electrical and ball bearing industries.

Another 10,000 workers will be laid off tomorrow when the Ford Motor company closes six plants—at Buffalo, N. Y., Chester, Pa., Chicago, Edgewater, N. J., Louisville Ky., and St. Paul, Minn.

Other Ford plant and department shutdowns between now and February 8 will make idle still another 10,000 workers, or a total of 40,000 in all.

To Reach 1,000,000

The increasing speed of the layoffs lent credence to earlier predictions of business and union leaders that more than 1,000,000 workers in related industries would be forced out of work if the steel strike continues five weeks.

While Reconversion Director John W. Snyder expressed hope of a settlement this week, such an outcome appeared to hinge on whether the government will allow a price for steel which industry representatives consider sufficient to enable them to pay USW wage demands.

The steel workers ask 18 1/2 cents an hour. U. S. Steel, tacitly accepted bargainer for most of the steel companies, says through its chairman, Irving S. Olds, it must have an increase "very much" more than $4 a ton before it can pay a raise of more than 15 cents an hour.

Price Increase In Doubt

The government has been reported willing to allow $4 a ton although the OPA has held steadfast to its original assertion that no more than $2.50 should be granted.

At Washington, the OPA said the current weighted average price of all carbon steel products is $54 a ton and that any increase would be added to this. Increases for some products would be more than for others. The OPA declined to discuss the price on a detail basis because there has been no official disclosure on the amount of increase.

Chairman Olds said a steel price boost "greatly in excess of $6.25 a ton" would be required to meet the 18 1/2 cents an hour wage increase recommended by President Truman. Olds added:

"We are already entitled by law to price increases by reason of past heavy increases in our costs, quite apart from any present wage increase."

GUINEA PIGS—Two Curtiss-Wright experimental test pilots undergo stratosphere conditions inside an altitude chamber that can simulate conditions as high as 80,000 feet and at temperatures as low as 85 below zero Fahrenheit. The pilot (right) makes notes describing their reactions to the high and low temperatures in the chamber.

Army Units Reaching U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

Eleven vessels, carrying 6,278 re- turnees, are scheduled to arrive to- day at New York while 15,671 more service personnel are due to embark from 19 ships at four west coast ports.

Ships and units arriving:

At New York

Mahoney City Victory from Le Havre, 1,441 troops, including 614th Tank Destroyer Battalion; 987th and 3197th Quartermaster Service Companies; part of 4061st Quartermaster Service Company, Hampden Sydney Victory from Marseille, 1,511 troops of Second Armored Division, Felipe Deneve from Marseille, 591 troops, including Companies H, I, K of 398th Infantry Regiment.

Isaac Cole from Le Havre, 368

troops, including part of 74th Engineer Light Pontoon Bridge Com- pany; 411th Port Company Miscel- laneous on following: George Cham- berlain from Naples, 117; F. Wil- liamson from Antwerp, 29; Daniel L. Johnson from Barry, 28; Hilary Herber from Antwerp, 542; San Angelo Victory from Calcutta, 21; Frederick Victory from Le Havre, 1,606; Winthrop Victory from Cal- cutta, 24 troops, 10 war dogs.

At San Francisco

Miscellaneous on following: Bel- leau Wood from Guam, 1,620 navy; Kota Baroe from Manila, 1,325 army; U. S. Grant from Pearl Harbor, 1,172 army; Tranquility from Pearl Harbor, 711 navy; Baretta from Pearl Harbor, 20 navy; LST 877 from Pearl Harbor, 136 navy; Stagbush, 30 navy.

BUS ASSEMBLY MEN TO WORK

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 31 (AP)—Ap- proximately 600 bus assembly line employees at the Mack Manufac- turing company plant here will return to work tomorrow, a union official said, but they will work only 32 hours a week.

Joseph Sandy, president of Local from Pearl Harbor, 156.

At San Diego

Miscellaneous on following: Es- cort Carrier Shipley Bay, 1,128 navy and coast guard; assault transport Pond Du Lac, 1,814 navy and mar- ines; LCI's 25, 26, 27 and 62, no passenger information. (Above ves- sels all from Pearl Harbor.)

At Seattle

USS General Callan from Ka- rachi, 4,805 miscellaneous troops.

677, United Automobile Workers (CIO), said he ordered the men to return to the jobs but to work only 6.4 hours a day.

Company officials said last night, however, that the bus workers must work eight hours a day or face in- subordination charges. The plant has been idle since Tuesday in a dispute over hours caused by the nationwide steel strike.

The company announced that 2- 600 truck assembly workers had been placed on a 32-hour work week for the duration of the steel strike, but reported there was sufficient stockpiles of the metal to continue regular hours for bus workers.

JOBLESS PAY IS EASED FOR VETS

Harrisburg, Jan. 31 (AP)—Pennsylvania veterans, made idle in strikes, are eligible for state unemployment compensation provided they established necessary wage credits before they began war service.

This ruling, announced by Governor Martin, was made by Attorney General James H. Duff at the request of William H. Chesnut, secretary of labor and industry, and is effective at once.

The question arose after the veterans administration in Washington held that veterans involved directly in work stoppages were ineligible for federal benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.

Pennsylvania law, on the other hand, permits maximum payments of $20 a week for 20 weeks to workers in cases of strikes after a five-week waiting period, although another provision requiring veterans to exhaust federal benefits before obtaining state payments was thought by some to bar them from similar payments.

Nearly 600 veterans came to the state capitol last week to demand such an interpretation as well as a special session of the legislature to act on housing and a veterans bonus.

Governor Martin, however, said Chesnut had asked for an interpretation on the state law as it affects veterans on January 3, three weeks before the veterans' group visited Harrisburg. Martin said the ruling would be retroactive in any case where a veteran has been denied compensation by any former ruling but no estimate was available on how many would benefit.

Guldens

T-S George Dutera, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Dutera, was given a discharge from the army at Santa Ana, California, January 21. He was inducted July 1, 1942, at New Cumberland and began his active duty two weeks later, receiving his basic training at Ft. McClellan, Alabama. He was then assigned to the Signal Corps attached to the 3rd Air Corps and sent to Drew Field, Tampa, Florida. He remained there more than a year when he was transferred to Camp Pinedale, Fresno, California. There he served as radioman with a radar outfit. Several months ago he was sent to Lookout Mountain, near Los Angeles, where he served until last week. He wears the good conduct medal with a clasp, World War II Victory medal, American Theater Service medal, expert medals for the use of the bayonet and carbine and a Sharpshooter medal for the rifle. Mr. Dutera plans to remain in California for the present.

The January meeting of the Guldens and Cedar Ridge Rural Telephone company was held Friday evening at the home of Mr. Goebrecht, president. The following officers were elected to serve during the year: President, Paul Sneeringer; secretary, C. P. Myers, and treasurer, Ray Kohler.

Miss Mary Dutera has been confined to bed by illness.

Things Of The Soil

Notes On Growing Quinces

The quince, although it is one of our oldest cultivated fruits, has never attained considerable economic importance. It is, however, an excellent fruit to include in the small home orchard or to grow in backyards and along idle fence rows. And while the market is seldom amply supplied with the fruit and increased sales could be developed in many regions, it is doubtful that quince growing will soon reach a commercial status. But for home use, for making preserves, jellies and marmalades, also for adding flavor to other fruit dishes, it merits a place in crop plans.

Trees should be set out in early spring as soon as soil and weather conditions permit. Due to its slow-growing habits, the quince should be at least 2 to 3 years old at transplanting time. The chief exception to this rule is where growers wish to develop low-branching trees, in which case one-year-old nursery specimens may be preferable. In fact, formation of low-branching trees is often wise in growing quinces in order to permit easier and more effective control of common insect pests and diseases by spraying.

Unlike apples, peaches, cherries, plums and pears, quinces are borne from buds on shoots of the current season's growth, not from buds on last year's wood. This explains why quince trees grow slowly and why they develop crooked branches, for shoots make little growth after fruits appear and the shoot usually prefers some strange angle from the parent body.

Blight, commonly called fire-blight, is usually the most troublesome disease, similar to the same menace on pear and apple trees. Avoidance of too rapid growth and cutting out infected branches as soon as discovered are the only effective control measures.

The quince curculio, a small beetle, is perhaps the most destructive insect enemy of the quince in this region. Control is possible by timely spraying and by jarring the pests from trees on to canvas or oilcloth spread beneath.

The orange variety is widely grown and is one of the earliest ripening sorts. It is apple-shaped and a rich orange in color.

The Champion is one of the latest varieties, somewhat larger than the Orange, a bright yellow when ripe.

The Angers is known mainly for its strong growth and vigorous root system. It is grown almost exclusively as stocks for propagating dwarf pear trees and for stocks on which to bud or graft other varieties of quinces.

The so-called Japanese quince is an ornamental shrub and while it occasionally produces fruits suitable for making jelly, it is preferred for its beautiful spring flowers.

Quinces should be planted at least 15 feet apart each way in a good loam soil preferably of a clay texture. It has been observed that the trees live longer in heavier types of soil rather than in the lighter loams. To develop low branching trees, cut back nursery specimens to 10 to 12 inches after planting. Sod mulches, with an annual application of nitrogenous fertilizer, are perhaps more advisable than culture by keeping the soil loose by cultivation.

Big Game Is On Increase In U. S.

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—The nation's big game population is increasing faster than the number of potential hunters.

The Fish and Wildlife Service reported today that all animals classified as big game totaled 7,148,422 in 1943, an increase of 5.9 per cent over 1941. In the same period the human population gained less than one per cent.

Pennsylvania had the largest big game population in 1943, 1,104,655 animals, nearly all deer. Michigan ranked second with 731,407, Minnesota third with 631,877, California fourth with 597,025 and Oregon fifth with 584,261.

Kansas was listed as the only state having no big game.

14-YEAR RULE BY DEMOCRATS UP FOR REVIEW

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—They're off. And you, the voter, are going to have to listen to it and make up your mind: Democrats against Republicans.

The 79th Congress is in its final session. Next November the voters will decide whether they want the Democrats or Republicans to run the House of Representatives.

It's some decision to make, although a lot of people may take it lightly.

Democratic Since 1931

The Democrats have controlled the House since 1931 when President Roosevelt first took office in the midst of the depression.

There are 435 seats in the House. Of that total, the Democrats have 236, or 45 more than the 191 which the Republicans have. In addition, two minor parties are represented. And there are six vacant seats.

By having a majority in the full House the Democrats also have a majority on all the committees—which counts when the committees vote on bills. Also Democrats are chairmen of all the committees.

Congress was hardly back at work after its Christmas recess when Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Massachusetts Republican who is minority whip of the House, took to the air to say:

Two Points of View

"Nobody needs to tell you that the administration of our national affairs is lost in confusion. We all know America has been divided into factions."

"That is one condition the White House cannot blame on the American people."

Not to be outdone, Rep. John W. McCormack, also of Massachusetts but leader of the Democrats in the House, said in a radio talk exactly one week later:

"The record of the Democratic party since March, 1933, when the Republicans were ousted for their inaction and lack of leadership, has been one of progressive and constructive service in the cause of the American people."

Vets Back Strickler For Governor Race

Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 31 (AP)—The executive committee of the Lancaster post of the AMVETS was on record today recommending the candidacy for governor of Col. Daniel B. Strickler, commander of the 28th Division's 119th Infantry Regiment in World War Two.

The organization said Strickler, a Lancaster lawyer and veteran of World War One, was endorsed on a non-political basis. He is a member of the post. J. W. Shupp, chairman of the post's executive board, said last night the AMVETS seek to have both Republican and Democratic parties endorse ex-servicemen for the statewide offices.

February Is Month Of Many Red-Letter Days

Back in the third century a Christian martyr paid with his life for his faith, and became St. Valentine to posterity. But for the few who know of his canonization, thousands more associate his name only with that date in February on which tender, and sometimes not so tender, sentiments are exchanged.

February 14, St. Valentine's day, which at this time has no actual connection with the saint, stems from the old notion that birds mate on this date, hence long ago it became the custom to send love tokens.

There may not be quite as much paper lace on the Valentines which modern Romeos send to their Juliets, but the sentiments expressed have not changed and the regard of a man for a maid is just as fervently proclaimed as it was by the gay blades of yesteryear.

Caustic Comics Going Out

The greeting card industry and many other lines of business have capitalized on this old custom, and now a valentine may be a post card, an elaborate creation of the skilled engraver, a box of candy, a corsage of flowers or a bottle of perfume.

The day of the so-called comic Valentine, which carried a message of ridicule rather than an expression of regard, is gone, and few of this type of "Valentine" are seen any more. These gaudily-printed, lurid-toned and caustic-tongued sheets provided the cloak of anonymity for those who needed such an outlet for their repressions. They gave the schoolboy an opportunity to poke fun at his teacher; the businessman to slur his rival, for all and sundry to expose and abuse the weaknesses and foibles of others.

Other Anniversaries

February is a month of other anniversaries. On February 2, Brother Groundhog is supposed to come forth from his winter's hibernation to cast a look around and tell us whether or not to expect six more weeks of "weather." If he sees his shadow, back he goes thus postponing spring, says the old story.

February is the birthday month of three Presidents, William Henry Harrison, on February 9; Abraham Lincoln on February 12 and George Washington on February 22. It also contains the birthday of Thomas A. Edison, February 11, and of Susan B. Anthony, pioneer crusader for women's rights, February 15.

Because Easter comes late this year, not until April 21, Shrove Tuesday, the day preceding Ash Wednesday, will arrive, not in February, as is usual many times, but on March 5, so Pennsylvania Dutch will have to wait longer for their doughnuts on "Fasnacht" day.

The first flight made by the Wright brothers lasted only 12 seconds.

Newspaper Story Gets Quick Results

Pittsburgh, Jan. 31 (AP)—A newspaper story telling of 350 houses to rent only 35 minutes from housing-hungry Pittsburgh, brought the Allegheny county housing authority a land office business yesterday.

At day's close, it had answered question from 500 prospective tenants, rented 40 of the properties outright (25 of them sight unseen), and had taken applications for 125 others.

The homes are in two federal housing projects, Victory Village and Valley Homes, on the Sewickley creek road, between Sewickley and Ambbridge. Built for war workers, they became vacant with the exodus of workers from the district after V-J Day.

ALL AMERICAN AVIATION, INC. AFTER BUSINESS

Philadelphia, Jan. 31 (AP) — All American Aviation, incorporated, is making a serious bid for a major portion of airplane business in 10 states.

Spokesmen for the airline seek Civil Aeronautics Board approval to put 291 cities and towns on the air map in a postwar expansion move that would "blanket" Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, Ohio and Kentucky.

Harry R. Stringer, vice president in charge of traffic for the seven-year-old concern, said All American wants to establish passenger routes that would cover a total of 2,690 miles.

Stringer asserted the company intends becoming one of the "big airlines" in the U. S.

"We hope to establish a network of passenger and air pickup lines in the Middle Atlantic area," Stringer told CAB Examiner Charles Frederick in regional hearings here.

Seek 31 Charters
A total of 31 airlines seek charters to expand air routes or establish new ones connecting New England, the east, the south and parts of Ohio in a vast air network that will give hundreds of small towns airports.

Meantime, officials representing Philadelphia—the fourth largest city in the United States—said it is the "stepchild" of the airways. They asserted that 25,000 persons are refused airline tickets every month—six times the available number of airplane seats on the 32-flights-a-day schedule now in operation.

Howard M. Shafer, City Airports manager, told the CAB that of 4,000 persons fortunate to secure plane tickets only 80 can get them without a 60-day wait for reservations.

Two Fire Captains Hurt Fighting Blaze

Pittsburgh, Jan. 31 (AP)—Two fire captains were injured by the explosion of two tanks of acetylene gas while fighting a fire last night at the General Welding Co. plant in Lawrenceville.

Captain Harry Brockett of No. 2 engine company was hurled against a wall and knocked unconscious. Captain Ralph Bigley of No. 7 company was thrown across the street. Both were taken to hospitals. Other firemen were stunned.

Firemen said loss was held to $1,500.

HARMONS AT HOME — Elyse Knox, film actress, and her husband, Tom Harmon, former All-American football star and Army Air Forces pilot, spell out a Happy New Year with blocks for their five-month-old daughter, Sharon Kriston.

42,000 UTILITY WORKERS PLAN STRIKE FEB. 9

New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—Approximately 42,000 members of the Utility Workers of America (CIO) will strike at one minute past midnight, February 9 in a walkout aimed at the Pennsylvania Power and Light company, says Harold J. Straub, union vice president.

The P. P. and L., with headquarters in Allentown, Pa., employs 4,600 and provides electricity to some 3,000,000 persons in 28 Pennsylvania counties. William J. Pachler, union secretary-treasurer, who announced Straub's strike decision yesterday, said the walkout was called to protest a National Labor Relations Board election which named the Employees Independent Association as bargaining agent for the utility's employees.

Straub, in a statement, asserted "the only way in which a strike that will tie up the entire state of Pennsylvania can be averted is for the National Labor Relations Board to set aside the results of the election in which we have proved company domination and interference." David Williams, Pennsylvania's deputy Secretary of Labor, said in Allentown the state Labor Department is "watching the situation very closely and everything possible will be done by the state to prevent a strike."

Officials of the non-affiliated ETA union said its employees would not strike.

John W. Thomas, ETA general chairman, commented at Allentown: "The CIO is striking against the government because it didn't have its own way in the election. The CIO is not striking against the company." P. P. and L. officials were not immediately available for comment.

Hogan Favored In Tucson Tournament

Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 31 (AP)—Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., was the favorite as the $7,500 Tucson open golf tournament gets under way at El Rio country club today.

Hogan, winner of the Phoenix open and leading money winner of the current 1946 tour, turned in a best ball score of 62 in the pre-tournament pro-amateur competition yesterday. He played with L. Levy of Tucson. Par for the course is 70.

Tying Hogan with best ball scores of 62 in the pro-amateur were Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y., Sam Byrd of Detroit, Harold McSpaden of Sanford, Maine, and Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas.

East Berlin

East Berlin — Mrs. Harry Holand, R. 1, has returned to her home from the Hanover hospital where she underwent a major operation early this month.

The apartment at the George E. Mummert garage, formerly the home of the Mummert family, is being remodelled into an auto display room.

Mrs. Nevin A. Decker, a surgical patient at the Harrisburg hospital, is reported to be in a serious condition.

Miss Sylvia M. Ebersole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ebersole, R. 1, a senior at Shippensburg State Teachers' college, has begun her practice teaching work. Her sister, Sara, is about to complete her course at the Joyce Art School of Beauty Culture, York. She is also studying voice and has been guest soloist at several church services and secular affairs in York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Oberlander had as recent guests their son, Dean, USN, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bill Oberlander, and daughter Pamela Jane, York; Mr. and Mrs. George Elsenner and daughter, Louise, Miss Gerry Polkenroth, and Richard Gentzler and family, all of York county.

Earl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Herman, is able to be about after a confinement to his home by sickness.

Among recent discharges from the navy is that of Ralph G. Jacobs, younger son of Paul E. Jacobs, who worked and resided during civilian life in Bangor, Pa., where his wife, the former Miss Bettie E. Hodgson, made her home during his absence. He is a graduate of the local high school in 1938.

Mrs. Carroll Volland, Mrs. George E. Mummert, Mrs. Annie B. Mummert, Miss Carrie E. Wagner, Mrs. Paul Price and Sherman Mummert made a recent motor trip to Little.

George Farrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farrence, Spring Grove, a grandson of George P. Jacobs, late of this place, is resuming his studies at West Chester State Teachers' college for this semester. He was recently discharged from the army after a long service in Italy.

Mrs. George Zeigler, who has been in poor health, is able to be about and is reported improving.

Slow improvement is reported in the condition of Mrs. Oscar C. Reynolds, who injured her kneecap severely and fractured her wrist in a fall on an icy walk near her home during the Christmas holidays.

Merl R. Shetter, stationed near Pittsburgh with the state motor police, visited during the week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter. He was discharged from the army last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Sinner had as recent guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Sinner, who recently began housekeeping in Towson, Md.

Richard Mummert, USA, is on a 30-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nevin C. Mummert, and family, R. 3.

Sherman Elsenhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira A. Elsenhart, R. 3, a veteran of the U. S. Marines, has been assisting at the George E. Mummert garage here. The young man was hospitalized for some months after sustaining serious injuries on Okinawa which resulted in the loss of his left eye.

The Fall Guy

BY JOE BARRY

Chapter 8

That filled out the pattern. All the little pieces fell into place. It made a complete picture, but Rush didn't like it. The picture was just barely out of drawing, the colors ran a little. Rush couldn't put his finger on what was wrong, but deep down where his hunches lived, Rush had a feeling. He was sure that the look he had surprised in Jago's eyes had been fear, yet there was no reason for him to be afraid of the inventor, for inventor he was. In the few seconds Rush sat digesting the story Jago had told him, a knock came on the door. Surprisingly light on his feet for so fat a man, Jago was at the door almost before the knocking ceased. He put the gun in his pocket and kept his hand there. With his other hand he opened the door a crack, then swung it wide.

"Come in, come in, children. I have a visitor I want you to meet."

Rush swiveled in his chair to look toward the door, framed in it as they entered the room were a striking brunette with a slight oriental cast to her features, and Wilmer, Leslie Germaine's companion of the previous evening. Rush almost laughed aloud. The strings were all tying together in one knot. What he had thought of as three jobs were turning out to be all the same job. He rose to be introduced.

"My dear, this is Mr. Rush Henry. Mr. Henry, my daughter—" my real daughter, that is—Myrna Jago. Mr. Henry is a detective, my dear. Wilmer, meet Mr.—"

"We've met," Rush said. "You mustn't mind Wilmer. Mr. Henry, he's a very moody boy. But what's this about you two meeting before? You didn't tell me, Wilmer."

Wilmer didn't turn his head to answer. "I met him last night when I was with that Germaine wench."

"Now, Wilmer, you mustn't—"

"Mustn't hell. Next time get somebody else to do that kind of dirty work." Wilmer's voice rose an octave above its usual flatness. "I can't stand that woman. She wanted to do the most awful things. I won't go out with her again." His voice ended on a note of uncompromising decision.

"All right, Wilmer. You needn't go out with her again."

Jago shut the door and locked it, putting the key in his pocket. He turned to Rush.

"Now, Mr. Henry, I will trouble you for that thousand-dollar bill. The numbers are against you this time. I'm quite sure we can take it from you by force if you insist."

"As a matter of fact, Mr. Jago, I haven't the bill with me. I'm not used to carrying that large a sum of money with me. I left it behind."

"I'm afraid I can't take your word for that. We'll have to search you, Wilmer!"

Wilmer left the window and stood beside Jago. "Shall I take him?"

Wilmer's hand slipped to the V of his coat, and in that instant Rush stood up taking his chair with him in a sweeping arc, loosing it at the top of the swing. It caught Wilmer flush, pinning his arm to his chest and knocking him off his feet. On the floor Wilmer clawed at his shoulder holster but Rush had followed the chair and sat astride him. Rush took the gun from the holster and stood up, looking down at Wilmer who was dabbling blood which seeped from a cut over his right eye.

"I don't allow punks to ask if they should take me," Rush said. He looked around at Jago, remembering the gun he carried. Jago chuckled gently.

"You do know your business, Mr. Henry. But I still have the key to the door and I don't think you can take it away from me. We seem to reach an impasse. Have you any suggestions?"

"Yes. The girl can search me. I wouldn't let that gungel of yours touch me with his little finger and if I had the bill on me none of you would. But since I'm clean and you have to be shown, let the girl go over me."

The dark girl moved over to Rush and with a curious smile began to search him. She was thorough. Her slim fingers didn't miss a trick. "I didn't think you had it but for that sum I couldn't afford to take chances. It seems, Mr. Henry, that you have received a retainer of one thousand dollars. What are you going to do to earn it?"

"Protect Hops from you," Rush grinned.

"Very good, Mr. Henry. Very good." He chuckled.

"Before you unlock the door let me give you an even thousand dollar's worth of advice." Rush looked at them—Jago standing balancing the automatic in his right hand and looking inscrutable; Wilmer still on the floor, a deadly cold hatred burning in his eyes; and Myrna, now standing with her back to him, looking out the window. "This is my town and I don't stand getting pushed around in it. Not with my connections. You, Jago, don't consider any other means of persuasion to get back your grand; it won't work. If I should run across the plans you are looking for I'll sell ideas of yours about fogging me in a dark alley won't work. I'm too smart. Miss Jago, for you I have only thanks for a very nice going-over. It was a pleasure.

Myrna Jago had the grace to blush.

"Now, Mr. Jago, the door please." Slowly, thoughtfully, Jago hoisted his bulk from the edge of the desk and moved to the door, unlocking it with the key he took from his pocket. Rush moved to the door and stood in the open archway.

"Oh, yes. I've been retained by the family in the murder of Paul Germaine. I most certainly intend to find someone who looks guilty enough to hang. If I were you, Jago, I'd decide now whom I could best get along without."

Rush left them standing open-mouthed staring after him through

Jail Terms For Two On S. S. Violations

Pittsburgh, Jan. 31 (AP)—Two men were given jail terms in federal court yesterday on charges of violating Selective Service laws.

Charles West, Butler, Pa., was given four months for failing to report a change of address and placed on parole on charges of failing to report for induction and failing to return a questionnaire.

Willard Andrew Auld, Arnold, Pa., was given three months in jail for failing to report an address change, and put on probation for two years for failing to report for induction.

The empty doorway. It was, he considered, a not unprofitable morning.

PRODUCTION OF PORK IN PENNA. LAGGED IN 1945

By LEONARD A. UNGER
Harrisburg, Jan. 31 (AP)—Pork production in Pennsylvania last year was the lowest of all the war years, the Department of Agriculture said today. Prospects for 1946 are not too bright, either.

The number of pigs saved for fall farrowings, counting all litters farrowed between June 1 and Dec. 1, 1945, totaled 482,000, compared with 483,000 for the same period in 1944. Pigs saved from spring farrowings, Dec. 1, 1944 to June 1, 1945, totaled 410,000, compared with 570,000 the same period a year earlier, making a grand total of only 892,000—or 15 per cent below 1944.

Pig Peak in 1943
The federal-state Crop Reporting Service, who conducted a survey with the assistance of rural mail carriers, said there was "no hope for increasing pig production during 1946."

Farmers have indicated intentions to breed only 63,000 sows for spring farrowing, exactly the same number that farrowed in the spring of 1945. For the 1945 fall crop a total of 75,000 sows farrowed. Although this was 2,000 more than for the fall of 1944, 1,000 fewer pigs were saved, since the average size of litters fell from 6.8 to 6.6.

Reviewing pig crops of the four war years, the department said the all-time peak was reached in 1943 with a total of 1,357,000 pigs, or 32 per cent more than the 1,031,000 pigs saved in 1942.

Feed Diverted
Low prices and scarcity of feed prompted farmers in Pennsylvania to divert much of their available feed for production of milk and eggs. In 1944, the spring and fall pig crops totaled 1,053,000. Production continued to drop last year, the total reaching 161,000 less than 1944 and 465,000 under the 1943 record.

Nationally, the number of pigs saved in 1945 was about the same as in 1944. The fall crop of 38,144,000 was 12 per cent larger than the 1944 fall crop.

Adding the spring crop of 51,570,000 head, which was down seven per cent from 1944, the total 1945 crop of 89,714,000 is practically the same as the 87,668,000 head in 1944, but 29 per cent below the 1943 record. The number of sows to farrow in the spring of 1946 is expected to exceed those in 1945 by four per cent.

Beeswax Production Up
Although production of honey in Pennsylvania dropped off two per cent last year compared with 1944, the output of beeswax was four tons higher and values for both exceeded returns for the previous year, the Department of Agriculture announced today.

The 5,973,000 pounds of honey produced last season was valued at $1,368,000, compared with a return of $1,339,000 in the 1944 season, according to a production survey made by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

The 1945 output of 149,000 pounds of beeswax worth $84,000 compares with 141,000 pounds valued at $59,000 for the preceding year.

Averaged 44 Pounds
Colonies of bees in the state were estimated at 181,000 or five per cent below 1944. Honey production per colony last year was 33 pounds, one more than the 1944 average.

Because of the generally weakened condition of many hives fol-therefore healthier, than their grandmothers. That the new independence gives them the right to say what they shall wear. That they wouldn't for worlds squirm themselves into the stays, the corsets, the camisoles and voluminous petticoats of the gay nineties.

We're all for health, but do the children of today ever do the work their elders did?

Let's take the footwear question, just for the sake of argument. Today's bobby soxers may be caught flatfooted as tomorrow's wives, a leading authority tells us. Dr. Earl C. Elkins of the Mayo clinic of Rochester, Minn., gives the teen-age

"sophisticates" that to think about. The bobby sox era in high school is a "natural" for flat feet, says Dr. Elkins, explaining:

Sled Runners For Feet
"Moccasins, sandals and the like are as bad for girls as the too-high heels our mothers used to wear."

He predicted if the bobby soxers continued to wear them for long, their arches would pancake, and soon they'll have "sled runners for feet."

"Hurrah for Dr. Elkins," we hear on some sides, while from other quarters there comes a Bronx salute. The Times wouldn't mind hearing more on this subject. So the "kids" have a defense to present? Do parents feel like giving us the "Amen" or bawling us out for antiquated views on what children should wear? We don't want to start a controversial conflagration, but if you feel like sounding off, now's your chance. But write it. Don't storm The Times office, particularly on pay day. We'll be too busy.

Here it is, boys and girls, mothers and dads, how do you feel about it?
